IMPROVED FACILITIES

Of the 44 millage-funded projects, 25 improved facilities for pedestrians and non-motorized traffic.
On Tuesday, November 8, 2016, Washtenaw County voters approved a road and non-motorized path millage that will fund approximately 200 miles of road improvements over the course of four years. In addition to road improvement, the millage also provides funding to expand the county's pedestrian and bicycling infrastructure.

In the first year of the millage, nearly 50 miles of road has been improved across the county through 44 different projects. Of these projects, 25 included improved facilities, like sidewalks and paved shoulders, for pedestrian and non-motorized traffic.

Explore the map below, to see where millage funds will be invested over the next three construction seasons.

How is the money allocated?

All revenue generated by the millage stays in Washtenaw County.

- The Washtenaw County Road Commission (WCRC) receives approximately $3.3 million per year to fund road work in the county's twenty townships.
- Cities and villages receive $2.5 million per year, with specific allocations based on the amount raised within a municipality’s borders.
- The Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission receives $1.5 million per year to support the expansion of the county's non-motorized path network.
